THE FAIR WILL LIVE.

The Best Souvenir of the Greatest Show in History

PLACED WITHIN THE REACH OF ALL.

Those who did not Get to Visit It Can Still Secure a Good Idea of the Magnitude and Beauty of the White City—The Intelligencer Makes a Liberal Arrangement with Those of its Patrons who Wish.

For the benefit of those friends of the INTELLIGENCER who desire to preserve in the best form and at reasonable price the memories of the World's Fair, the INTELLIGENCER has made an arrangement for duplicate productions of the best work of the photographer's skill. There will be sixteen of these large pictures in a portfolio, and there will be sixteen portfolios, appearing at the rate of one portfolio a week. INTELLIGENCER subscribers may get the whole set of portfolios or as many as they desire. To secure a portfolio, say the first one, begin next Monday morning to cut out of the INTELLIGENCER the World's Fair portfolio coupons. Six of these and ten cents to cover cost of mailing, etc., will entitle the subscriber to the portfolio. The same plan secures the portfolio of the next week, and so on to the end of the series. The photographs are just what everybody wants and will be a valuable addition to any household. In fact they preserve the life of the fair in a most exact and pleasing form.

Early in the history of the fair the government made careful provision for an elaborate series of photographs, to be kept in the archives as a pictorial record of the exposition. To this end the work was entrusted to a most skillful and reliable artist. The results have been entirely satisfactory and gratifying. The most comprehensive and representative collection of photographs ever taken in connection with any enterprise has been secured of these 256 of the best have been selected as covering every point of interest in connection with the great event and these have been divided into sixteen portfolios, each containing sixteen photographic reproductions. The cost of the whole number of photographs is $1.00 in addition to the coupons cut from the INTELLIGENCER. Each picture is also accompanied by a graphic description of convenient length.

The introduction to the first portfolio has been written by Prof. Halsey C. Ives, and his name on the title page is in itself a sufficient warranty of the literary and artistic excellence of the work. The subjects chosen are varied, as will be seen from the contents of the first, as follows: 1, the Administration building; 2, the Woman's building; 3, the Peristyle; 4, the Transportation building; 5, the golden doorway of the Transportation building; 6, the Horticultural building; 7, the Columbian fountain; 8, the convent of La Rabida; 9, the Brazilian building; 10, Medallions of Night and Morning; 11, Psyche, by Thumann; 12, the Four Races, by Martiny; 13, Ceres, by Martiny; 14, Midway Plaisance from the Ferris wheel; 15, Persian sword dance; 15, Statue of the Republic, by French.

It should be remembered that each one of these is accompanied by an interesting and authentic description.

It should also be borne in mind that these pictures are faithful and artistic reproductions of the originals, which are preserved by the government at Washington as a pictorial record of the exposition, and that they can only be obtained in this city in the manner and during the time above stated. Those who desire the entire series should begin at once, and favor their friends by informing them of the opportunity offered.

It will be a pleasure to show a sample copy to those who will call at the INTELLIGENCER counting room.

THE ENGINE BROKE DOWN.

An Accident to the County's Electric Light Plant.

About 8 o'clock last evening, when Prosecuting Attorney Howard was making the opening speech in the Groves case, the engine in the basement of the court house, which runs the electric light machinery, began to knock as if it had an ambition to shake the building down. Then there was some more noise, followed by silence and a cessation of the knocking, and then all the electric lights in the court went out.

The engine was out of order night before last. Last night it performed the feat technically known as "running through itself." It was for the time being about as completely disabled as it possibly could be. For a day or two the county end of the court house and the jail will be lighted with gas.

Butchers' Protective Association.

The most important business done by the Butchers' Protective Association at their meeting last night was to appoint a committee to confer with the grocers' association in regard to a strictly cash system. This committee is empowered to treat with the grocers' association.

Andy Korn's horse was also raffled off last night, and number 39 won the horse. About one hundred chances had been taken.

"Our Country Cousin."

Below is a clipping about the "Country Cousin" company, which will be at the Grand Opera House Thursday, Friday and Saturday: Frank Jones in his new play "Our Country Cousin," captured a good all round audience at the Academy of Music last night. The play is a good one, and the part taken by Mr. Jones, affords a wide scope of dramatic ability. The scenery, especially in the third act where a railroad effect is introduced, was good.—Macon, Ga., Telegram.

"Tin Seal" Brand.

The Wheeling Bakery will give an elegant three-bladed penknife, or a beautiful doll, to any little boy or girl who will save the Tin Seals from 100 loaves of their bread. Seals must be presented at the office of the Bakery, corner Main and Twentieth streets. Always ask your grocer for "Tin Seal" Brand.

A GLASS FACTORY SITE

May be Found on Baltimore & Ohio Property—Officials Here.

Yesterday M. B. Cutter, an official of the Pittsburgh division of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, and J. F. Cassell, engineer of that division, came to the city in response to negotiations opened by Hon. N. B. Scott, on behalf of the citizens' movement to save to Wheeling her flat glass industry. The railroad company was informed that a site was in view on company's property near the East Wheeling stockyards, and with great promptness these gentlemen came to look into the matter.

Mr. Scott accompanied them over the ground, and indicated what ground would be required. Mr. Cassell will make a plat of the proposed site, to be submitted to the company. It is considered a most eligible site from all points of view.

Mr. Cutter said in conversation with an INTELLIGENCER reporter that he thought the people of Wheeling could expect a very early response from Baltimore, and he had no doubt the company's proposal would be very liberal.

Messrs. Frank Gruze and H. F. Behrens are in the meanwhile continuing their search for desirable sites for a factory on the South Side, to take the place of the Hobbs glass house. They have several in view, all considered very suitable for the purpose.

A POPULAR PROJECT.

The Mock Legislature Promises to be a Great Go.

It now seems probable that the meeting on Friday night in the hall of the Ohio County Republican Club, in the I. O. O. F. block, will be the largest which ever assembled there. It is desired that every district in the county may be represented by as many Republicans as can come. The plan is to form a mock legislature, with representatives from all the districts, to discuss legislative measures at intervals through the winter. Such an organization would certainly be both entertaining and profitable, a sort of series of object lessons in questions of government. Mr. A. W. Campbell will be present and make an address, and this announcement alone will no doubt be sufficient to draw an audience which will pack the hall.

Help the poor by helping yourself to a good supper to-night at the residence of Mrs. M. B. Metcalf, 110 Fifteenth street. Begins at 5 o'clock.
